Enhance Resident Well-Being

iN2L enables older adults to share conversations, interactions, learning, and fun with each other, their caregivers, and family members. Our intuitive touch screen systems provide access to more than 4,000 content items supporting the core dimensions of wellness—spiritual, physical, social, intellectual, occupational, and emotional—creating engaging experiences for groups and individuals, staff-led or independent.

Create Essential Connections

iN2L brings people together, connecting residents with what interests and fulfills them and creating camaraderie, happiness, and a better quality of life. Digital profiles for each resident make it simple to use their interests to personalize engagement and support connecting with others to ignite their purpose.

Empower Team Members

Whether Life Enrichment, other team members, or agency resources, empowering staff with iN2L enables them to support engagement experiences consistent with what residents and their families have come to expect from your community. An intuitive interface, quick access to pre-built programs, and regularly updated content ideas and schedules make it easy to spend more time with residents and less time planning.

Set Your Community Apart

With joyful connections at the center of the resident experience, iN2L enhances and differentiates your community. Beginning with sales and marketing, your community can demonstrate a commitment and investment in person-centered care as well as tech-enabled, personalized engagement and connection opportunities.
